Stores Receiving Stations For Used Clothing Campaign

Downtown stores will be receiving stations for the United National Clothing collection in Salem, starting Monday and continuing until the end of April.

Practically all merchants, except grocers, have agreed to provide receptacles to be placed just inside the store doors where used clothing may be deposited.

In presenting the plan to the merchants last night, Chairman Curtis H. Vaughan of the local committee assured them that frequent regular collections will be made so the clothing will not pile up in the stores.

The committee will have the clothing sorted and prepared for shipment to national headquarters. It will be sent to destitute men, women and children in war-devastated countries.

Chairman Vaughan urged donors to wrap the used clothing before taking it to the receiving stations. The committee will salvage the paper. The Salvation Army home will be one of the receiving stations.

Those who have no means of getting the used clothing to the stations are requested to call Chairman Vaughan at 5465 or Urban Lepping at 3899 and arrangements will be made to pick up the bundles.

U. S. WARSHIPS CONTINUE TO HIT OKINAWA

Superforts Also Blast Island Center, Imminent Invasion Target

(By International News Service)
GUAM, March 31.—American carrier planes sunk or damaged 46 Japanese ships and 87 airplanes Thursday and Friday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today as warships continued heavily bombarding Okinawa in the center of the Ryukyu chain which Tokyo said was threatened by imminent invasion.

Nimitz announced that 18 enemy ships were definitely sunk, 13 probably sunk and 15 damaged in strikes ranging over much of the 700-mile long Ryukyu island chain and Kyushu Island, southernmost of the home islands of Japan.

Kyushu and Honshu were also hit today by substantial formations of Superfortresses flying out of the Marianas Islands.

American carrier pilots and anti-aircraft gunners on shipboard shot down 29 Japanese aircraft. Yank pilots also destroyed 16 Japanese planes on the ground and damaged at least 42 others.

12 U. S. Planes Downed
Twelve American planes were shot down and six pilots lost.

The fleet admiral's announcement came as the Japanese Domei news agency was reporting that U. S. transports were moving in on Okinawa, in the center of the Ryukhus, preparatory for an invasion.

As minesweepers were clearing a path for these, Domei said, in actions it described as "preparing for landing operations."

An enemy Domei news agency dispatch said "about 15 battleships and other heavy warships" have joined American naval forces already in the Okinawa area, 325 miles south of Japan, which was hit again today in series of Superfortress raids.

"A powerful transport armada is following close behind the enemy task force," Domei said, "apparently having learned a lesson in the two operations, the enemy is proceeding cautiously."

Say U. S. Fleet Attacked
"Okinawa island is being heavily pounded by warships and planes. Enemy minesweepers are active, preparing for landing operations."

AMERICANS LAND ON NEGROS ISLE

(By Associated Press)
MANILA, March 31.—Maj. Gen. Rapp Brush's 40th division of the Eighth army landed Thursday against light opposition on Negros, last remaining major Philippine island under Japanese control, seized an airstrip and menaced the island capital, Bacolod.

Other Yanks had to fight hard. Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today, to take tiny Caballo island, which is within rifle range of Corregidor on Manila bay.

With the invasion of Negros, MacArthur asserted the enemy in the Visayan island group "seems bewildered and his defense is rapidly collapsing."

Negros is a part of the Visayas. Masbate and Bohol are the only remaining large islands of the group not invaded by United States forces.

Brush's doughboys crossed Guimaras strait eastward from Guimaras island, between American-controlled Panay and Negros, and went ashore near the mouth of the Bago river. One column pushed northward along the coast to take the airstrip and approach the capital city of 50,000 while another column turned southward, capturing two places and making contact with guerrillas.

Negros, more than 120 miles long and 50 miles at its widest part, is one of the biggest sugar producers in the Philippines.

On recently invaded Cebu island the American division overcame moderate resistance at Guadalupe and also joined up with guerrillas. An estimated 500 Japanese were on the island. American commanders reported about 229 were killed in the landing assault and in encounters afterward.

BURGLARS OBTAIN MARKET RECEIPTS

Burglars last night entered Dubbs' market, 315 E. State st., through the front door and stole Friday's cash receipts, Herbert Dubbs, owner, said today.

City police, called to the store this morning, obtained fingerprints of the criminals left on some freshly painted woodwork around the transom.

The amount of cash taken was undetermined early today, as Dubbs was in Cleveland on a business trip when notified of the burglary. He has returned to Salem but had not been able to check the loss as yet. Nothing besides cash was taken, it was believed.

Police had not reported the burglary.

Eye Congress Pensions

WASHINGTON, March 31.—A house subcommittee was set up Friday to consider legislation granting federal pensions to congressmen.

Merchants' 'Paper Holiday' To Continue Until War Is Ended

A "paper holiday," starting Monday and continuing for the duration of the war was declared by Salem merchants, in conjunction with those of every other community in the country, for conservation of wrapping paper and bags.

The "paper holiday" permits wrapping of articles that must be covered for sanitary or protective purposes. John J. Schwab of the Cleveland WPB board told a group of merchants meeting last night.

He announced the appointment of Harold Smith, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store, as chairman of the committee which will check with and assist merchants in this program to conserve paper.

7TH WAR LOAN DRIVE PLANNED

R. S. McCulloch To Direct Campaign: Preliminary Work Starts Monday

The Seventh War Loan drive in Salem will be conducted by R. S. McCulloch as city chairman.

Although the general campaign will begin May 14 and run to June 30, sales of E Bonds will be counted from April 2 to June 30.

With the national goal set at 14 billion dollars, Salem's E Bond quota has been fixed at $723,400 and the individual quota at $461,400, a total of $1,184,800. The complete quota will not be known for some time as the total expected in corporation purchases will be announced later.

Organization work in the factories already is under way. In this drive school children will participate by obtaining pledge cards. These are being distributed ready for them to start their part of the campaign Monday.

The Treasury department has announced that in 1945 there will only be two War Loan drives instead of three but that in those two drives the government will require as much money from individuals as in the three drives of 1944.

Salem's quota for both individual and E War Bond purchases is considerably higher than in the last drive.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—For the nation's retail stores, May 14 will be "B-day"—B for bond—the opening day of the 7th War Loan drive.

Executives of national and state retail trade associations met here with treasury officials this week and drew up "the mighty 7th invasion plan" as the backbone of retailers' participation in the drive.

There will also be a B-hour, on the 14th, during which stores will sell only War bonds. B-hour will be picked individually by the various communities to coincide with their peak business periods.

Good Friday Service Is Well Attended

The union Good Friday service sponsored by the Salem Ministerial association from 12 until 3 p. m., Friday at the First Friends church was well attended.

The seven last words of Jesus spoken from the cross formed the nucleus for talks given by seven ministers. Dr. R. D. Walter, Rev. M. R. Searies, Rev. John Williams, Dr. J. A. Scott, Rev. C. F. Evans, Rev. John Bauman, and Capt. Robert Barton, Rev. G. D. Keister gave the benediction.

"There Is a Green Hill Far Away," was sung by Mrs. Rose Clark instead of Miss Martha Jane Stirling who was unable to attend.

Other special numbers were: "He Paid the Price," Mrs. Clarence Townsend and Misses Martha and Ruth Coulson; vocal duet, "Down at the Cross," Mrs. Charles Becknell and Mrs. Wilbur Beck.

3rd Army Tank Columns Race On Unchecked

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 31.—United States armor punched to within 175 miles of Berlin at two points today in the vanguard of an avalanche of 3,000 Allied tanks surging swiftly through Germany and closing a potential trap on up to 40,000 Nazis in the wrecked Ruhr.

Security silence largely masked the extent of the gains of five Allied armies, but a front dispatch disclosed the Sixth Armored division of the United States Third army had battered to within 10 miles of industrial Kassel (Pop. 220,000), 165 miles from the Reich capital. The fall of Kassel today was considered likely. The Sixth Armored division had sped 45 miles since yesterday.

Thirty miles farther southeast, the United States Fourth Armored "break-through" division drove to a point four miles southeast of Herzfeld, also speeding to within 175 miles of Berlin.

United States First army tanks had dashed northward through Paderborn, and were nearing a junction with American Ninth army tanks which ran on through Friday night by moonlight in an obstacle race over wrecked bridges and past road blocks.

The First and Ninth rapidly were closing a gap, now apparently less than 50 miles wide, to bottle up from 30,000 to 40,000 Germans still fighting in the ruined cities and mining areas of the Ruhr, Germany's last and greatest arsenal.

On the Ninth army's flank the British Second army, paced by three armored divisions, was sweeping deeper across the north German plain, and was 50 miles beyond the Rhine.

With such a depth beyond the Rhine, British armor might be in or near Muenster, or midway between Muenster and Hamm.

British Army Crosses Dortmund-Ems Canal

The German radio said that British-led army troops have crossed the Dortmund-Ems canal, a 170-mile waterway which connects Dortmund and the industrial Ruhr with the River Ems, and had established a bridgehead on the east bank.

Such a crossing would be in the area where the British are driving from Duilmen toward Muenster. The RAP mined the canal last August and on Nov. 21 placed hits upon its banks which drained it for a distance of 16 miles.

The U. S. Ninth army's breakthrough, along the northern rim of the Ruhr valley progressed overnight, but frontline correspondents were not permitted to say how close it now had come to Paderborn. This breakthrough, it was disclosed, is

Sixth Armored Column At Edge Of Kassel

Today the Third army closed up on this same sector, with the Sixth Armored sending one column within 10 miles of Kassel, and another to Cappel, 15 miles south of Kassel.

Down the line, men of the Fourth Armored drove 23 miles northeast from Lauterbach to a point four miles southeast of Herzfeld, and another element from the same division reached the vicinity of Herzfeld after a 14-mile push.

The U. S. Seventh army in the south pushed well beyond captured Heidelberg, and fought a terrific battle with Germans in prepared positions across the River Main in an area around Aschaffenburg. There were reports even German women, girls and boys were fighting there.

On the northern flank, British and Canadian troops were beating back into Holland northwest of Emmerich, perhaps driving for a cut-off of the rocket bomb Dutch coast.

Allied advances spearheaded by at least 11 armored divisions were shoring thousands of prisoners. The Third army took 10,000 more Friday, the British Second army captured 1,500 and the U. S. First 11,200.

Allied planes tore repeatedly at German communications.

A high-ranking German officer seized by Third army troops asserted:

"There is not any organized line of defense between you and Berlin. There is not any organized system of government left in Germany. When you reach Berlin, the whole situation will quickly dissolve."

The closest approach to Berlin was made by the U. S. First army, whose tank divisions had crossed the Elbe river in gains of up to 21 miles and entered Fritzlar, 15 miles from Kassel.

SALEM RESIDENTS AID WOUNDED VETS

In response to an appeal made by Salem chapter, American Red Cross, for grape juice and dish garnishes for veterans at Deshon government hospital, 37 gallons of grape juice were donated by residents of Salem, Damascus and the rural district. Twenty-three dish gardens were contributed.

These, with 35 pounds of cottage cheese given by the Andalusia Dairy Co., and 50 ditty bags from Salem chapter were taken to the hospital this week so that the veterans could have them for Easter.

Each khaki bag contained the following articles: Soap and soap dish; talcum powder, waterproof tobacco, pouch, tooth powder and brush playing cards and a wrapped surprise gift.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The Office of Civilian Requirements said today the 150,000,000 pairs of fabric and rubber shoes proposed for civilian use are not to be rationed.

The fabric footwear approximately will make up for recent and forthcoming cuts in the production of leather shoes.

The Promise Was Never Greater

As Christendom's most solemn religious event, Easter has been given a perfect setting of reviving life. The promise of Resurrection is in harmony with the phenomenon of natural rebirth.

The promise of better things to come was never greater for most of mankind than it is at Easter-time this year. We look forward with eager hope to the end of a holocaust which has laid waste many of mankind's proudest achievements.

We are planning a peace that will not be interrupted by madmen beset by blood lust. We are thinking about rebuilding shattered cities, making them better, more livable than they were before. We are dreaming of digging out of the ruins of civilization's collapse.

By our efforts, total disaster has been averted. Through suffering we have learned much. There is to be a finer order of things. What men can imagine can be done. Easter, springtime, the stirring of all men's finest ambitions to improve their lot and the lot of other men of good will—these were never more exalted than they are in this year, which may be the last year, of great international strife.

Japan Seems To Know

It is a peculiar circumstance of security that the American public should expect to obtain the first information about new moves in the Pacific from the Japanese radio, but Japan seems to know about these things when they happen.

Consequently, news from our own official sources about operations against vital points on the Ryukyus must be given the customary chance to catch up to information already supplied by the enemy. For obvious reasons, these operations were anticipated; many expected them to come before the invasion of Iwo in the Pacific timetable.

The Ryukyus lie between Formosa and Kyushu, southernmost of the Japanese main islands, in a position controlling communications with Formosa and within aerial range of the Chinese coast along the route from all points in Japan to Hong Kong. They are as vital to control of the East China sea as our newly regained aerial bases in the Philippines are to the South China sea.

Their strategic importance lies in the fact the islands stretch from within 80 miles of the first of the main Japanese islands to a little more than 70 miles from Formosa. They are an integral part of the Japanese empire. Though China formerly had nominal claims of control, these were quieted just before the turn of the 20th century when Formosa came in Japan's possession.

Germany's Psychological Warfare

When Foreign Minister Eden of Great Britain declared that any British soldier who might have the opportunity could shoot Adolf Hitler on sight if he chose, he may have had a more serious purpose than was immediately evident.

Germany's psychological warfare is continuing and threatens to continue after the end of belligerency. It consists chiefly in an attempt to place responsibility for defeat on the German people, rather than on the Hitler regime. That will leave the regime free to exploit whatever possibilities may be revealed for a revival of Nazism in either the near or distant future.

As Germany comes closer to defeat, the necessity of discrediting its gangster politicians grows more imperative. Adolf Hitler, as a symbol, would be a more important prize than Berlin. If with him, the Allies could destroy or capture all the best publicized members of his evil regime it might be worth a million lives which would stand in jeopardy if the leaders of the Nazi counter-revolution escaped to carry on their plotting.

Private Excise Taxes

As discussion turns up new implications of the proposed United Mine Workers' royalty on coal and the royalty being collected by the Musicians' union on recordings, this device's close resemblance to an excise tax is certain to be noted—and pondered.

Latest proposal to levy this type of private excise tax comes from the Washington Telephone union, which announces it will seek five cents for each toll call, to be paid into a union welfare fund. Toll calls, as it happens, already bear a federal excise tax, which suggests there would be no difference to users of telephone service between the tax collected by federal authority and a tax that might be collected by a private organization. Presumably, the private excise tax would be shown on the bill the same as the government tax.

It has been obvious from the beginning that this technique of union finance, if it becomes a habit, will know no limits. Since there is no way to force absorption of such a tax in the price of the product affected, it will be added to the consumer's cost of living—and according to the ageless rule of taxation will be what the traffic can bear. Government will be competing with private organizations for the right to survive by laying taxes on the people.

It is time for the Constitutional lawyers to give careful attention to the first sentence of Section 8, Article I of the Constitution: "The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises to pay the debts and provide for the general welfare of the United States, etc."

Rationing has stopped hoarding to the tune of a full-of-buy.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, April 1

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a fairly pleasant one, favoring all matters pertaining to the sabbath, with its holiday ecclesiastical rituals, as well as to the customary celebration of a social, domestic and emotional interest. Otherwise the sidereal motions are routine or uneventful, and not favorable for elders.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a fairly routine day, with a moderate degree of activity, with possibly a maintenance of the status quo. While there is scant encouragement for important ventures or any new or productive operations, there is safety and endurance for things as they are. An optimistic outlook is enjoyed for those seeking security.

A child born on this day will have a pleasant disposition, with generous and friendly inclinations. It should have a fairly successful life.

For Monday, April 2

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is an interesting one, mainly because of its conflicts and contradictions. There are signs of very active and productive situations in which major issues seem at stake. These are menaced by postponements, impediments and certain devastating and disintegrating factors of a deep-rooted nature. Perhaps well-organized strategies may prove more effective than force, quarrels and bitter antagonisms. Keep calm!

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year challenging its ingenuity, sagacity, and deep insight into thwarting or disintegrating forces which threaten any definite progress or advancement. Acumen, fresh ways and means, and well-ordered and shrewd strategies may win out where strife, over-strenuous and energetic methods would fail. Make decisions wisely, proceed with poise and consideration, even with ideals or intuitions for paramount results.

A child born on this day, although aggressive and forceful, may have ideals, subtlety and shrewd ways to gain its end.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Use of Sulfonamides In Infections

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

OUTBREAKS of acute infections are a constant threat in army camps during wartime, and during times of peace such epidemics may also occur when large groups of persons are crowded together in various places. Under these conditions respiratory diseases, that is, colds, sore throats, and pneumonia, are particularly likely to spread rapidly through the groups.

In army barracks, infections have shown that these infections may be carried in the dust of the barracks and from the bedclothing of the occupants.

Various methods have been suggested for controlling this spreading of infection, such as treating the floors and blankets with oil, and it has been found that this has served to reduce the number of cases. Another possible method of control is to give each person in the group a dose of one of the sulfonamide drugs so that he will not get the infection.

Army Camp Study

Maj. Harry A. Warren of Madison, Wis., has carried out a study on more than 9,000 men in an army camp to determine whether or not the use of sulfadiazine, one of the sulfonamide drugs, in the proper dose, might not be effective in preventing these respiratory infections.

Doctor Warren's first study consisted in the giving of three grams of sulfadiazine in a single week for eleven weeks to a group of students. In the second study, one gram of the sulfadiazine was given to the group daily for twenty-one days.

A careful record was kept of the infections which developed in the groups of persons studied by Dr. Warren.

It was found that the use of a weekly dose proved ineffective in reducing the number of acute infections in the first group of students. However, it was found that when the preparation was given daily, the frequency of certain of the acute infectious diseases was effectively reduced.

Add Throat Infections

The greatest reduction was of those diseases caused by streptococci, such as scarlet fever and sore throat. A definite reduction was also noted in the frequency of rheumatic fever.

There was no benefit obtained in preventing disorders caused by a virus, such as colds. A virus is an organism so small that it can pass through the openings of a porcelain filter.

It was interesting that among the more than nine thousand men treated, reactions from the use of the sulfonamide drug occurred in only thirty-four, and in none of them was the reaction in any way serious.

It would appear then that there is some benefit to be obtained by the daily use of one of the sulfonamide drugs in preventing certain infections, particularly when groups of persons are crowded together over a period of time.

GIVE BONDS room—lots of room—in your strong box and let them sing the tune of Victory for you and our fighting men. Expand your Bond purchases right now, no matter what you may have to do without—and pledge yourself to keeping every Bond you possess, until the war is won and over with, and our troops are on their way home! To cash them in before is like giving up the war and letting our heroes down.

Remember that the longer you keep your Bonds the more they're worth and the more they'll be able to buy you in post-war goods. Why take a loss by cashing in before they mature? Why risk our taking a loss in our war operations? KEEP EVERY BOND YOU BUY!

Rome Church Bells Tell
Of A Peaceful Easter

NEW YORK, March 31—A phonograph record of her master's voice was flown today to Jackie, a bull terrier incurably ill in an Atlanta, Ga., veterinarian's hospital.

"Hiya, Jackie. Hiya, Jackie. Be good till I get back, Jackie, girl," says the voice, that of Richard H. Cundiff, 18, a trainee at the U. S. Maritime Service Training Station in Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn.

Cundiff's guardian, Mrs. W. G. Scott of Atlanta, telephoned the Journal-American yesterday and asked that the record be sent to cheer the dog, Cundiff's constant companion for 12 years.

Maritime Service officers made arrangements for the recording.

NEW YORK—Although this year's Easter suits, toppers and ensembles are tricked out to make every woman a glamor gal, the new fancy treatment is strictly edited to give these wardrobe additions year-in, year-out service and all-occasion wear.

Evidence of restrained iron-frou are front-swing bustles, capes and caplets, dramatic sleeve and shoulder treatment, and tassel-hung silk sashes. New cardigan and cut-out necklines make effective frames for soft bow blouses, print scarves and multiple strands of pearls.

The classic gray woolen suit, which designers once thought had to have crack-of-dawn simplicity, goes fancy in styles as sentimental as album pictures. Crisp white touches are as ruffy as a pinafore; jackets are braided-trimmed, scalloped or made flouncy with peplums which—as seen at the left—gives you bustle interest swung to the front. Besides a two-tiered peplum edged with striped wool, this Morris Kraus-designed suit has more stepped-up appeal in a bow blouse of yellow and white patterned sash.

The rabbit furnishes more meat for sportsmen than any other single species.

Dolman Returns
In the parade will be many capes—as long Inverness cloaks, as short as cap sleeves—to give both suits and coats Edwardian flavor. One of the jauntiest is the Philip Mangott coachman's coat (shown, second from the left) in a bright red wool.

topped with an elbow-length back-swinging cape lined with navy crepe.

As new as the cape for softening up treatment is the Dolman sleeve, which makes even the tweedy type of coat or suit look more like a dressmaker's job. Example is the Montano-designed, weekit suit (second from the right), which combines a yellow wool jacket, lined-checked with green, a matching weekit and a trouser-pleated green wool skirt.

This suit is only a sample of what's coming up in checks. They range from fleckings so small you can't distinguish them to checks as big as children's blocks. The whooped-up size in black and white on the tunic topper (shown right) is not only a point in case of block big checks but illustrates Vincent Montano's new use of braid belts and colossal silk tassels to dress up swaggar coats.

Death's BRIGHT DIAMONDS by Lionel Mosher

Back at The Wagon Wheel I flirted with the idea of sitting up for Mr. Hudson. But somehow I had a feeling that this wouldn't be necessary. So I went to bed.

The next morning I was up early. I dressed and went immediately to the desk to ask if Mr. Hudson had come in. The clerk looked at me oddly.

"Mr. Hudson?" he asked reaching for the phone.

"Mr. Street, please," he told the operator.

"Not Mr. Street—Mr. Hudson," I said.

"Mr. Street is the manager," the clerk explained frigidly. Then into the phone.

"Mr. Street, Mr. Trent is asking for Mr. Hudson."

The desk clerk was still eyeing me warily when he hung up.

"Mr. Street wishes you to step into his office, Mr. Trent."

So with the little ditty about the spider and the fly running through my brain, I stepped into the manager's office and the moment I did I knew we had reached another milestone. There sat Inspector Marks. That crooked little smile sat on his lips, but somehow it looked slightly forced.

"Well, Inspector," I said, "aren't you a little off your beat?"

"A little," he nodded. "Sit down, Mr. Trent."

The manager was looking worried and nervous.

"You asked for Mr. Hudson?" went on Marks.

"I nodded," I asked the inspector.

"He didn't come in last night. I was worried about him," I said.

"He planned to stay here at The Wagon Wheel?"

"Yes."

"Do you know why?"

"We were closing the house at Sandy Point. We intended to return to Boston this morning."

"Why not last night?"

"It didn't seem wise."

In the silence that followed Marks pinned that remark to a board and dissected it. With an acid smile he resumed:

"What was the reason for this little junket down here?"

"It was a party," I said and I couldn't keep a twinge of irony out of my voice.

"Who was at this party?"

"I think that before answering any more questions I'm entitled to a question of my own. Why the inquisition?"

Marks studied me. Street, the manager, sensing that he was superfluous, departed.

"The usual reason," Marks said. "The thump of another body, Mr. Trent."

"Anyone I know?" I asked weakly.

Marks nodded. "Phineas Hudson," he said.

I sat down. The clock on the wall clicked. Two little doors flew open; a synthetic-looking cuckoo sailed out, cuckooed eight times, and slid back behind the doors again. Marks paid no attention to the clock. With the single-mindedness of a snake, he fixed his eyes upon my face.

"Who were the guests at this party?"

"There were seven of us; besides Mr. Hudson and his daughter, Charley Strand, Eric Woolf, myself, and Bruce Temple and his daughter, Brenda."

"Eric Woolf?" The inspector speared the name. "Where is he now?"

"I don't know. He left yesterday after lunch."

"What time was it when you left the Ledges to come to Minot?"

"About six I should say. We had dinner at The Cock and Kettle went to the movies; then, while Mr. Hudson returned to The Ledges for our luggage, we went to The Wagon Wheel to get rooms for the night. While we were waiting for Mr. Hudson to return, the fire alarm sounded. From the glow in the sky we suspected it might be The Ledges, drove over, looked for Mr. Hudson, then came back here again."

"Did you return to Sandy Point?"

"No."

"Why not?"

"Look," I said. "I'm trying to be cooperative, but you will have to use your imagination a little."

"I'm a detective, not a writer of mystery stories," answered Marks.

"Mr. Trent, I have been in touch with Cass Hapes."

"Oh," I said.

"Exactly."

"Do you think I killed Mr. Hudson?" I asked, looking Marks in the eye and daring him to meet my stare. But Marks wasn't looking at me.

"What I think is unimportant."

"How was he killed?"

"With a bullet," Marks sat up.

What can you Spare that they can Wear?

UNITED NATIONAL CLOTHING COLLECTION for Overseas War Relief

HENRY J. KAISER

National Chairman

APRIL 1 to 30

Across the barren wastes of war-torn countries, wander multitudes of dazed and destitute people. Their appalling number, in Europe alone, is 125 million, of which more than 30 million are children. They are living in the ruins of their homes. They are working in their ravaged fields. They are kept alive more by courage than by food; warmed more by hope than by clothing . . . working and waiting—even as we—for total Peace.

These men, women, and children—innocent victims of Nazi oppression—have been robbed of all but life itself. During five long horror-filled years of war, the clothes on their backs have worn to pitiful shreds and rags. Production of new clothing has been impossible—so their need will continue long after the end of hostilities.

Many Thousands Have Died

So scarce and scanty have their garments become that, during winter months, deaths from exposure have equalled—and in some areas even exceeded—deaths due to starvation and malnutrition.

The clothing these people so desperately need is available.

Some of it now reposes in your own closet or attic! The rest of it lies, forgotten, in millions of other American homes.

150 Million Pounds Needed

Look over your family's wardrobe—now. Pick out every garment you can possibly spare—serviceable used summer as well as winter clothing and shoes—men's, women's, children's, infants'. Every American home must give its share if the goal of 150 million pounds is to be reached.

Remember, these people of war-torn countries will one day—soon—be our proud partners in the building of a peaceful world. Will you help them—now?

What YOU Can Do!

1. Get together all the serviceable used summer and winter clothing you can spare. This includes: Men's, women's, children's, and infants' wear, and shoes. Overcoats, topcoats, suits, dresses, shirts, skirts, jackets, pants, work clothes, gloves, underwear, sleeping garments, robes, sweaters, shawls, and all knit goods. Also blankets, bedclothes.
2. Take your contribution to your local COLLECTION DEPOT now or arrange to have your LOCAL COMMITTEE collect it before April 30th.
3. Support your Local Committee not only with your clothing contribution but also with your time, effort, and energy.

Work To Improve Centennial Park Diamond To Start Soon

COMMISSIONERS WILL CORRECT DRAINAGE, SOIL

Will Erect New Bleachers, Resurface Field And Tile Drainwork

Work is expected to be started next week to improve the Centennial park baseball diamond, city park officials announced today.

Planned since last year, when hardball conditions at the park were found to be "intolerable," the repair work will include resurfacing the present diamond, laying tile beneath the field to improve drainage conditions, and the erection of new bleachers.

Joe Kelley, park commission member, said today that a steam shovel will begin work next week removing about 15 feet of the east bank along the diamond in order to supply top soil to resurface the infield and outfield on the playing section.

Tile will be laid beneath the new covering to correct the drainage system of the field, which previously drained water directly over the infield, causing large ruts and erosion.

Plans for bleachers call for the addition of a considerable amount of seating space, as well as improvement to the older, worn out wooden structure in use for a number of years.

Cement tiers are to be installed, Kelley said, to form a base for the wooden planking used as seats. This construction is expected to be a large improvement over the previously shaky and hazardous fan accommodations.

The work is being initiated by the park commission and financed through its annual allocations. City council, asked some time ago to take action on the park situation, has the item in a committee's hands.

The improvements were called for last summer when the Salem Athletic club baseball team began operations here in a revival of hard ball in Salem.

Playing conditions for the local outfit and for the numerous teams which visited Salem were termed dangerous by players and managers. Salem was rated last year as the most poorly-equipped town, as far as a playing field goes, in this section.

Completion of the project at the park is expected early in May, but officials said some of the work might have to be delayed because of the material and manpower shortages.

Benton Back To Aid New-houser, Trout

By HARRY GRAYSON
EVANVILLE, — Young Dick Wakefield is in the Navy, and the Army beckons old Mike Higgins, but Steve O'Neill expects to do it with pitching, which most certainly is a better system than mirrors.

Southpaw Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout, who accounted for no fewer than 56 games between them last year, are back with the Tigers, and the soreness which handicapped him the last months and probably cost the Tigers the pennant, has disappeared from Stubby Overmire's left arm.

Ruffus Gentry, a potential 20-game winner, is counted upon to curb his wildness, and huge Al Benton, who pitched five innings of the All-Star game of 1942, appears as formidable as ever following two years in the Navy, during which he had 21 and 19-game seasons against what practically amounted to major league opposition.

Manager O'Neill had Les Mueller, an Army dischargee in Beaumont three summers ago, talks enthusiastically about his sinker. Walter Wilson, still another large right-hander, bagged 18 games for Buffalo, and old catcher O'Neill gives Bob Gillespie, also another from the same club, a chance provided he acquires control, Johnny

Gorsica may be called by the armed forces, but, for some unknown reason, hasn't been much account, anyway.

Detroit's catching is the best with Paul Richards and Bob Swift. Al Unser speaks of remaining in war work, but Milton Welch, who hit .302 for Hagerstown, Md., of the Inter-State league, has caught O'Neill's eye together with the baseball.

Only two infield positions are settled in this Evansville training camp, and there may be something of a problem here if third baseman, Pinky Higgins is inducted, and second sacker, Eddie Mayo elects to stay in the New Jersey war plant.

Rudolph Preston York is a fixture at first base, of course, and Skeeter Webb, who happens to be the boss' son-in-law, has replaced erratic Joe Hoover at shortstop. In case both Higgins and Mayo turn out to be absentees, Hoover could be stationed at third base and Bob Maier hit 298 while patrolling the far turn for Buffalo.

With Maier at third, Hoover could play second or that post could be entrusted to Carl McNabb, another called in from the Bisons. McNabb batted 283 in the International, but is on the light side at 154 pounds and O'Neill fears he might not hit much more than his weight in the American league.

Track Practice!

Cope Issues Call For All Thinclads To Report At Field Monday

Coach Fred E. Cope today issued a call to all his prospective track stars to appear at Reilly field at 4 p. m. Monday for the first outdoor workout of the year.

The veteran mentor said that although school was not in session Monday, the initial workout would take place. He urged all track men to be at the field at 4 sharp.

The weather looks as though it may give us a break this year, Cope said, "and these early workouts are the ones that really count when that first meet rolls around."

About 25 of Cope's proteges are working after school in plants and downtown business places, he said, and the workouts have been limited so far.

Barons To Collide With Tougher Bears

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, March 31.—Cleveland's Barons collide with a greatly strengthened band of Hershey Bears tonight in the opening game of the American Hockey league playoff finals.

In regular season play, the Barons took the Western division title and the league percentage championship with 78 points. Against Hershey, Cleveland tied five, won three and lost two, those late in the season after Coach Cooney Weiland bolstered the team with three men.

Norm Calladine, a winger, was purchased from the Boston Bruins and Freddie Robertson, veteran defenseman, from Pittsburgh. Center Mike Slabaga came to Hershey from Cleveland in a trade for Tom Fergie.

The winner will be decided by the point system (two for a win, one for a tie). The first team to garner eight points will get the cup, with the series limited to eight games.

Leetonians To Fill In Ball Field With Ashes

LEETONIA, March 31.—In order that the Booster club's softball field can be prepared for use as quickly as possible, the club has asked householders to dump their winter's accumulation of ashes on the field.

In this way, people will have some place to dispose of their ashes and the club will get the field before putting on top soil. The field is located just south of the Mellinger lumber yard and is the field lying west of Madison st.

It is hoped that enough material can be secured to level the field and it can be put into play early in the summer. Plans are being made for a Booster club dinner in the near future.

Emswiler To Speak Here

State Athletic Commissioner To Be Guest Of Boosters At Cage Banquet Soon

It appeared certain today that H. W. Emswiler, commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic association, will be the speaker for the annual Salem High school basketball team banquet in the Memorial building, to be sponsored by the Salem Boosters club sometime during the week of April 9.

Emswiler, contacted last week by Art Brian, Booster club secretary, wrote today expressing his desire to come to Salem, but left the setting of the date to club officials.

Emswiler is booked up all next week, but said he had just two dates at cage banquets the following week and would be "happy to come to Salem on any stipulated evening."

The date will be announced soon, Brian said, after Coach Bob Miller and club officials agree on the day.

Sport Chatter

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Rumor Dept.: From a former Big Six footballer now a limited service soldier comes the tip that Fort Benning's infantry school will move into the "Major league" football class next fall. . . . Walt Kennedy, Notre Dame's vacationing tub thumper, reports he was accused of watching the basketball tournament games at the Garden to pick up a few tips so he could coach the team next winter. . . . Branch Rickey has given Leo Durocher an ultimatum to quit the radio or quit the Dodgers. Branch apparently prefers Leo's old style of broadcasting without a mike.

When George Lyttleton-Rogers, president of the Pro Tennis association, was extolling Pvt. Frankie Kovacs in Oklahoma City the other day (George credits the discipline and good in Uncle Sam's Army for Frank's improvement) the erstwhile screeball of tennis piped up: "I pay Mr. Rogers well for such publicity. You know I make $22 a month now."

The Converse, La. High school basketball team played 72 games during the past season and won 70 of them, including the state Class B title. Two tall forwards, Truitt Latham and R. C. Looney, scored 873 and 564 points, respectively. The school has only 26 boys—13 on the cage squad—and no gymnasium of its own. . . . Jim McIntyre of Patrick Henry high, Minneapolis, set a state tournament record of 100 points in three games. He's 17 years old, 6-9½, and doesn't know where he's going to college.

Capt. Jack Chevigny, killed on D-day at Iwo Jima, was the eleventh National Football league alumnus to lose his life in the war. Chevigny was former coach of the Chicago Cardinals. . . . Other ex-National leaguers at Iwo were Capt. George Franck (Giants), who went ashore as a Marine Air corps liaison officer; Lieut. Lazetich (Cleveland) and Lieut. Paul Sakash (Detroit).

Sheffield In "Beehive"
SALT LAKE CITY — Fred Sheffield, one of the two survivors from the Utah cage team that won the 1944 N.C.A.A. championship was the only athlete named this year to Beehive, university honorary organization, membership to which is based on leadership and campus participation.

Webb To Replace Joe Hoover At Short

Right now the outfield is the same as it was last year until the mighty Dick Wakefield emerged from the Navy's Iowa PreFlight School to bail the Battling Bengals, as Gordon Stanley Cochrane used to call them, out of the seventh slot and thump them to the within one game of the flag.

That means the ball hawk, Doc Cramer, flanked by the ancient and honorable Charley Hostetler and Jim Outlaw.

Ed Mierkowitz stands six feet four, however, weighs 200, has a medical discharge from the Army and swatted at a .331 clip for Hagerstown.

Johnny McHale of Notre Dame, out of the service, was a first baseman when he last played with Winston-Salem three years back, but will be an outfielder here if he can field and throw. O'Neill has reason to believe the young man can smack the sphere.

Bob Maier is a good outfielder if his services are not required at third base. Don Ross again will be an extra retriever if general manager, Jack Zeller can get him out of war industry.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

worth a tinker's dam has been knocked out. Let's call it V-E day.

That's the way observers generally view the situation now. Of course the Hitlerite regime suddenly decided to throw up the sponge. However, that would be one of the major surprises of the war, since an Allied sentence of liquidation hangs over Herr Hitler and his bloody-handed captains, and they aren't likely to put the noose about their own necks. On the contrary they have well defined schemes which gradually are becoming known.

The Nazi dictator and his gang already are gathering their picked forces into their Alpine fortress near Berchtesgaden. From there they plan to direct an underground movement against the Allies, and this already has been started.

Right now, while the Allies are engaged in their military clean-up of this underground campaign will be largely one of violence and obstruction to the invading forces. These secret activities will be carried on by fanatical Nazis, many of them soldiers who have discarded their uniforms. Later this unholy drive would—if the Hitlerian scheme succeeded—take on a political complexion. Apropos of this the Washington State department says the government has photographic copies of German documents disclosing "well-arranged post-war plans for the perpetuation of Nazi doctrines and domination."

Right now the terrorists are engaged in keeping the population in line by violence. An example was the Nazi assassination of Aachen's Allied-appointed mayor, Franz Oppenhef, who was executed as a "traitor" to provide an example for other Germans who might be inclined to cooperate with the Allies. And there have been other similar incidents.

PACKING HOUSE IS CLOSED BY STRIKE

KANSAS CITY, Kas., March 31.—The huge Armour & Co. packing plant, employing 3,500 persons and engaged largely in filling orders for the armed forces, was shut down by a work stoppage today.

The work stoppage followed a strike of 10 employees in the power plant yesterday.

Today pickets appeared at all gates, refusing admittance even to office workers, who are not members of the union.
Police said government inspectors were permitted to enter the plant and some of the supervisory workers remained inside to continue refrigeration.

EVIDENCE GERMANS PLAN THIRD WAR

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Germany already is laying the groundwork for World War II.
Photographic copies of "well-arranged post-war plans for the perpetuation of Nazi doctrines and domination" are on file at the State department.

The documents blueprint a program for economic, technological and political infiltration throughout the world.

OPA Says Merchant Can Demand Customer Smoke

COLUMBUS, March 31.—If a dealer insists that you smoke a cigarette from a pack he sells you, he has the blessing of the OPA, says District Price Specialist C. J. Botte.

The OPA officials said an indignant telephone caller informed him a dealer refused to sell a pack of cigarettes to a woman because she wouldn't smoke one on the premises—as proof she wasn't chiseling.

"The OPA has no objection to such practices," he added.

Missing Lisbon Airman Has Returned To Duty

LISBON, March 31.—The parents of William Hanahan were informed Friday by the War department that he had been returned to duty. Hanahan had been reported missing in action on Thursday.

The telegram received by his parents stated that the War department expressed pleasure that "Flight Officer W. N. Hallahan had returned to duty."

No Nazi Air Power In This Vital War Sector

MONTGOMERY'S HEADQUARTERS

March 31.—From Frankfurt on the Main to Paderborn there were no German war planes in operation today.

The magnificent airdromes at Rheine, Osnabrueck and other places nearby have been abandoned. Yesterday the tactical air force hit the Guterloh and Rhede fields, destroying 37 planes and damaging 19—all on the ground.

No personnel was visible at the fields. Lack of gasoline presumably prevented the Germans from flying the planes away, as they did not turn when hit by bombs.

In the northern sector the Luftwaffe appears to be withdrawing toward Emden, more than 100 miles from the active front.

Salem Woman's Son Wins Bronze Star Decoration

Pfc. Harry R. Harper, R.D. 1, Dennison, recently was awarded the Bronze Star for heroic achievement in action.

He is serving on the Fifth Army front in Italy with the 135th Infantry Regiment, 34th "Red Bull" Division.

When six men were killed and four were wounded in a heavy enemy battery fire, Harper ran through the impact area, assumed aid from a nearby aid station, then returned to the shellied area and began assisting the wounded.

Later he helped move the gun to a safer position and resume the firing of urgent missions, in a minimum of time.

Harper's mother, Mrs. Goldie Ritchey, lives on R. D. 1, Salem.

WARSHIPS

but no landings have been attempted yet."

Imperial headquarters said Allied carrier plane attacks were broken off last night after eight days of raiding southern Japan and the 700-mile long Ryukyu archipelago.

Tokyo report said a fleet of torpedo boats made a dawn attack today against Adm. Raymond A. Spruance's Fifth fleet which has been roaming through the Ryukyus almost unchallenged.

Fleet Adm. Nimitz's communique today reported that four motor torpedo boats and 17 planes were destroyed in a similar attack on the American warships Wednesday night and Thursday.

The admiral said a similar onslaught was repelled. He made no mention of any damage to American ships.

Tokyo's report of the new torpedo boat attack placed the Spruance-Mitcher force off the Ryukyus, presumably continuing its aerial bombing and ships' shelling onslaught for the ninth consecutive day. Earlier, Mitscher's carrier planes had bombed, rocketed and strafed southern Honshu, Shikoku and Kyushu in the Japanese homeland.

While warships poured thousands of shells and carrier planes dropped tons of bombs onto Ryukyus targets, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that both army and navy land-based planes attacked Formosa, and Gen. H. H. Arnold in Washington reported a new B-29 strike at Nagoya, important airplane production center on Honshu.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 31.—Buyers were partial to selected liquors, oils and specialties in today's pallid post-holiday stock market but ignored many leaders. Transfers were around 300,000 shares.

Dividends and peace-time profits prospects aided some issues and the feeling the list had done considerable discounting of the European war's end tended to stymie liquidation even in the armament-connected sections.

Better performers included Park & Tilford, Distillers Corp., American Distilling, Standard Oil of California, Plymouth Oil, Chrysler, Loew's, Continental Baking, Santa Fe, DuPont, Montgomery Ward, North American and Goodyear.

Rome's Many Churches To Peaceful, Warm Easter We

ROME, March 31.—The multi-toned bells of Rome's more than 400 churches, led by the big bell of Saint Peter's, rang joyously today as the Eternal city began observance of the Easter holiday under an unseasonably warm spring sun.

The bells began ringing early in the morning and continued to noon in the traditional holy Saturday custom. As Saint Peter's rang forth, Pope Pius XII donned a pair of white cloth slippers which he will wear throughout next week in rites connected with an Old Lithurgical ceremony.

FINDLAY, March 31.—A fire of undetermined origin this morning destroyed a two-story brick building, and caused damage estimated at $100,000, according to Fire Chief Raymond W. DeHays.

Occupants of the building were the Loyal Order of Moose, Dall drapery shop, Goodsell Bros., wall paper and paint store, and State Liquor store No. 90.

Firemen fought the blaze for four hours before it was extinguished. Postoria firemen assisted.

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK

by Hal Boyle

IN GERMANY — Almost every American vehicle rolling through the heart of Germany carries a German shepherd puppy or a mongrel, happy over a chance to sample American chow.

Iris Carpenter, woman war correspondent for the Boston Globe, asked why the Yanks were ferrying so many canine passengers, and a soldier replied:

"We can't fraternize with the German people. But they can't fine you $65 for fraternizing with dogs."

Even in enemy country, American boys have to be friendly with somebody or something. They haven't it in them to be permanently stern-hearted.

One group of doughboys called their new dog "Stinker," and explained:

"We whistled to him and he wouldn't come. Then we called him Rover, Fritz, Hans, Jerry, Kraut-head, Muttonmouth and every name we could think of, and he just stood there and looked at us. Finally someone yelled, 'come here, Stinker,' and he trotted over. So 'Stinker' he is."

The fundamentally sympathetic nature of the American troops is shown in more ways than their kindness to dogs. It is difficult even for combat soldiers—men who have had buddies killed by their side by Nazi fire—to feel marked antipathy toward German civilian refugees, especially young children and old people.

Enemy Likes Pageantry
It is hard for them to refuse little boys and pigtailed, freckled girls who stand by the roadside waving timidly and asking for "schokolade"—chocolate. And it is surprising to see how many adult Germans come out to admire American tank columns rolling endlessly by. These people have an ineradicable love of power, pomp and pageantry—even in the army that conquers them. Among rear echelon troops it is even harder for the army to guard against fraternization, which it feels threatens the safety of its forward fighters. People who fraternize with the enemy must talk, and people who talk tell secrets.

I have seen soldiers quartered in German homes try to steal themselves against any sympathy.

"I don't feel sorry for these people—not in the least," said one.

"Me neither, if they had the guts to kick out Hitler themselves, wouldn't be here at all," growled a friend as they wait for the family to move out. But when the housewife goes out, trailed by her husband and children carrying a household belongings, you can see the Yanks' faces the sympathy they won't admit.

Recognizing the danger of fraternization, the army has set up recreation centers in Belgium and France where soldiers can see every month or six weeks for the days.

Here men can eat well, sleep in luxury beds, get a few drinks and hear good music and forget the war.

The Army hopes these recreation centers will satisfy a soldier's craving for friendship.
